of THE FRANKFORT HIGH SCHOOL

T is with deep appreciation that this Capitolian is dedicated to a former member of our Board of Education, the Reverend Hampton Adams, in recognition of his high standing in the community, of his loyal and faithful service, and for his untiring efforts towards the good of our school.

The

THE REVEREND HAMPTON ADAMS

DEDICATION

Foreword

Today the 1938 Capitolian is yours! Yesterday it was ours, the Capitolian staff's, to design and complete. During these months we have striven to preserve the memories of this school year--of your friendships, of the activities you have entered, of the organizations and groups which you have formed. . . . We have tried in this volume to catch the spirit of the school, and we hope that in the future it will be a link between you and F. H. S.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

At last I was to realize the ambition of my life. My last play having been a success would now enable me to take that trip around the world. I would be completely at ease, since I was leaving my affairs in the hands of my capable lawyer, Betty South.

When the last lock on the last trunk had been fastened, I lifted the receiver to call for a cab to take me to the airport. I recognized a familiar voice saying "Number, please," and found it to be none other than that of Rebecca Simon. She explained that her husband, James Nord, hadn't been doing so well with his lemonade stand since the mayor, Harold Dailey, was engaged in a big "drink more milk" campaign.

Our conversation was interrupted as David Overbey, the cab driver, knocked on the door. I instructed him to drive slowly through the city since it would be the last time I should see it for five or six years. All the memories of Frankfort seemed to loom before me as I gazed upon familiar scenes from the car window. Yes, there was the cottage of Jimmy Gaines and Mary Ann Neblett, who had given up their dancing career to settle down and raise pigs (?). I saw their gardener, Al Koebbe, whitewashing the fence. I guess he had resigned to become a bachelor after his one and only Mary Snow had married the Olympic hurdler—Kangaroo Houchens.

On the corner was the parsonage of the Reverend Lamb, who was shaking his head over the outcome of the younger generation since Eloise Palmore was writing for Winchell, Jack Walters and Mary Ruby Hoffman had opened a "stay-open-all-night" chop suey joint, and Thelma Gunther had succeeded in landing an 85-year-old millionaire, to say nothing of Patsy Norris and Doris Linfoot's joining a carnival as snake charmers, and Lillian Goin's marriage to a circus clown, Claude Barnett. I wondered if he knew about Margy Muntz, who had taken Martha Raye's place in Hollywood, Keith Lewis, who was doubling for Tarzan, and Jack Kreiger, now a stand-in for Boris Karloff.

As we crossed the bridge that I well remembered being built during my school days, I looked down upon a large house boat—home of Nettie Henry and her husband. Well, it just proves the old saying—"You can take a man out of the navy—"

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Passing by the book store, now owned by Geneva Rose, I was surprised to see a large crowd gathered there. We stopped and questioned a woman nearby selling eggs and hairpins, and I found to my amazement that it was one of my old classmates—Ann Lois Traylor. She told us that the commotion was due to the recent arrival of the best book of the year, written by the famous novelist, Louise Brightwell. It was a sequel to "Gone With the Wind" entitled "Back With the Breeze."

Just then a group of workmen in overalls passed by and I spoke to Phillip Gordon and Louis Brown, asking rather sarcastically if they were really working for a change. They explained that they were going to work on the new building. What? Hadn't I heard? Why, Jean Harrod was sponsoring a school being built for the deaf and dumb. Well, if anyone could teach them to talk, she could. Her latest proteges were Holton Mitchell and Alvin Moore. Her husband, Thomas Mahan, was tearing his hair at seeing his fortune swept away to humor her original ideas. Tsk, tsk. And he had such pretty hair, too. "These young married couples just don't get along anymore," I thought. Only a few days ago Lucy Trumbo, the dietician, had told me that Carolyn Brock and Harold Aitken were getting a divorce because Harold insisted on five meals a day. She had also informed me that Mrs. Tom Marshall, formerly Elizabeth McGrath, was to accompany Carolyn to Reno, because of Mr. Marshall's insane jealousy of the town's best dentist—David Anthony. It was rumored that they would visit the latest glamour girl, Maggie Brown, who had decided to reside permanently at Reno since the divorce from her seventh husband, Speed Gray.

We finally reached the airport, and I became infuriated when I learned that the plane had been delayed an hour, because America's leading "It" girl, Georgiann Pepples, had wished to land and take her poochie for a walk. I tried to amuse myself with a newspaper but found nothing interesting except the advice to lovelorn by Audrey Partee and Frances Long, and another amusing article about Beverly Adams, being involved in a lawsuit, because she couldn't have the Statue of Liberty in her Antique Shop.

Just then the police calls on the radio caught my ear and I listened to the signals being sent out by Chief of Police, Buck Clay, to the outstanding "G" men—Edward

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Ellis, James Baker, and Randolph Lewis. While I listened, a call came to be on the lookout for Susan Emmet and Alice Wootton. It seemed that they were engaged in a "quack" medicine business which was described to be a perfect gyp. Turning the dial, I first listened to political speeches—John Chenault was running for Mayor of Elizabethtown, and Tom Howard for Dog Catcher of Paducah. Hieatt Nesbitt and Mary Frances Hazelett were starting a new political party advocating no sleep and 22 hours of work daily. Dick Brown and Leon Harrod were the outstanding enthusiasts of the new party, and Jack Gaines was to be the first presidential candidate.

Just then I heard the hum of a motor overhead and knew that the plane had at last arrived. I was immediately overjoyed at seeing air hostess, Anne Hughes, and steward, Tom Whitaker. Anne launched into a description of "you must see" places and told me particularly to stop in Paris for a visit with Ann Henry, who was modeling Paris bathing suits. She urged me to visit Carnegie Hall since Robertson Kagin's famous sympathy orchestra was playing there, featuring Virginia Hughes, pianist, and Joann Yancey, trumpeter. Marjorie Dennis and Susan Darnell were in New York, she said, dancing with Sally Rand, and Myra Cropper was proprietor of a marathon dance hall in Chicago. Robert Hale and Elizabeth Thomas had won the last marathon, but expected competition at the next one since the announcement had been made of the entrance of Martha Moore and Elliott Marcus. And I must stop in England at the Palace of Prince Picklepan to see Anna Frances Lea, who was the singing cook there. (Miss Lutkemeier would be glad to learn of this, I thought).

Higher, higher, the great plane rose into the air, and I saw the City of Frankfort disappear beneath me. My last glimpse was of the tall church steeple, and I leaned closer to the window when I saw something on the end of it. The passengers informed me that it was Martha Coleman, who had been defying all laws of gravity and was residing most of the time on the top of flagpoles and steeples. I settled back into my seat watching all traces of the city fade away in the distance, and as I looked down upon the clouds that sheltered it, I smiled to myself and said, "Thanks, for the memory."

—IRMA CARTER.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the members of the Senior Class of 1938, having absorbed all that Frankfort High School has to offer (most of which is not included in the curriculum) and having given it the great honor of our presence for four years, take our departure with deep sympathy for the faculty. This is our last will and testament:

I, Holten Mitchell, leave my ability to get along with everybody, to Sarah Margaret Jones.

We, Thomas (Fish) Marshall and Elliott (Herb) Marcus, leave the mimeograph and the candy sales to any Junior with a well-oiled tongue and good lungs.

I, Alice Wootton, will my ador-r-r-ation for Nelson Eddy to Alice South. (Take good care of him, Googy!)

We, Phillip Gordon, Tom Whitaker, and "Timbuck" Clay, will our athletic reputations and our "way with the women" to Billy Harrod.

I, Joann Yancey, leave my reputation as a "one-man woman" to Sadie Major Saffell.

I, Beverly Adams, leave my talent for spelling to those green-horns, the eighth graders.

We, Jack Gaines, Claude Barnett, and Harold Dailey, leave a nice, quiet home room to Miss Dietz, provided she doesn't get Robert Perry and Noel Jones next year.

I, Betty South, leave my position as "essay winner" of F. H. S. to Sarah Anne Hall.

We, Al Koebbe and Norman Houchins, leave our northern accents to Mrs. Dixon.

I, Mary Ann Neblett, leave my reputation as the biggest female flirt in school, to Doris Marie Nesbitt.

I, Speed Gray, leave the comforting assurance that "there's nothing in a name" to Grizilda "Sis" Allen.

We, Lucy Trumbo and Elroy (Sheep) Lamb, leave our often-used giggles, to Jean O'Bannion.

I, Harold Aitken, leave my job as stage manager of everything that happens in F. H. S. to anybody green enough to want it.

I, Anna Frances Lea, leave my sunny disposition to next year's A. K. O. S. officers. (They certainly will need it!)

I, Thomas Mahan, leave my eternal curiosity to the best snoop in the Junior class—Jimmie Sutterlin.

We, Susan Darnell and Mary Ruby Hoffman, leave the difference between us to Anne Fuss and Edna O'Nan.

I, Rebecca Simon, leave my flair for dramatics to Harriet Marcus.

We, Susan Emmitt and Keith Lewis, leave our smiles that won't come off, to the home room that will need them most!

We, Louis Brown and Jimmie Nord, leave our talent for getting into places where we don't belong and making people think we do, to Podge Moore and David Parker.

I, Virginia Hughes, leave my love for everybody in general (and football players in particular) to Puddy Henry.

I, Thelma Gunther, leave my "digging" implements to Lucy Ford.

I, Ann Lois Traylor, leave to Jean Whitaker the line that matches my hair.

We, Mary Frances Hazelett, Frances Long, and Audrey Partee, leave that refreshing quality of being still, to Barney Stanley.

I, Bobby Hale, leave my knack of "puttin' 'em in" to Don Wood.

I, Jack Krieger, will and bequeath Frankfort High School to the Freshmen.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, David Anthony and Jimmy Gaines, leave our reputations as the biggest male flirts in school to Spencer Mervin.

I, Jean Harrod, leave my ability to get in five more words to a minute than anybody else to Louise Wise.

I, Edward Ellis, leave the ease with which I keep quiet, to Bill Collier.

We, Hieatt Nesbitt and Elizabeth McGrath, leave our knitting needles to the highest bidder.

I, Martha Coleman, leave my indecision about whether to go to Good Shepherd or Frankfort High, to Louise Carter.

We, Leon Harrod and Tom Howard, leave the advantage of a manly figure to Bob Scott.

I, Jack Walters, leave my habit of acting mysteriously to DeVall Payne (so that nobody will ever know where he's been or why.)

I, Margy Muntz, leave my power to make myself heard over any amount of noise, to Mary Catherine Heath.

I, Robertson Kagin, leave my habit of singing all over the school, to next year's Senior song bird (whoever he turns out to be.)

I, Lillian Goin, leave my untouched hair to Martha McDonald.

We, David Overbey and James Baker, leave our indifference toward the feminine sex to Tommy Neblett.

We, Margaret Brown and Geneva Rose, leave our extra inches, to Carolyn Jean Starr and Billy Caplinger.

I, John Hugh Chenault, leave my good manners to "Suitcase". They ought to last him a long time.

We, Ann Henry and Anne Hughes, leave our poise and nonchalance to Doris Ann Smither, to keep her from blushing so much.

I, Dick Brown, leave my innocent look and my chubby cheeks, to Norman Gross.

We, Marjorie Dennis and Mary E. Snow, entrust our ability to look dressed up anywhere, any time, into the keeping of Jean Hall Stewart.

We, Randolph Lewis and Alvin Moore, leave our carrot-tops to Stewart Sharpe. (Variety is the spice of life.)

I, Elizabeth Thomas, will my interest in U. of K. to Edith Gaines.

We, Doris Linfoot and Jane Wright, leave our afternoon classes to Mary Louise Patterson and Alice Hamilton.

I, Nettie Henry, leave my interest in the United States Navy to any girl who thinks she can stand the strain.

We, Carolyn Brock and Myra Cropper, leave the choice of our voices to Martha Utterback.

I, Patsy Norris, leave my healthy appearance to Jane Scott Smith.

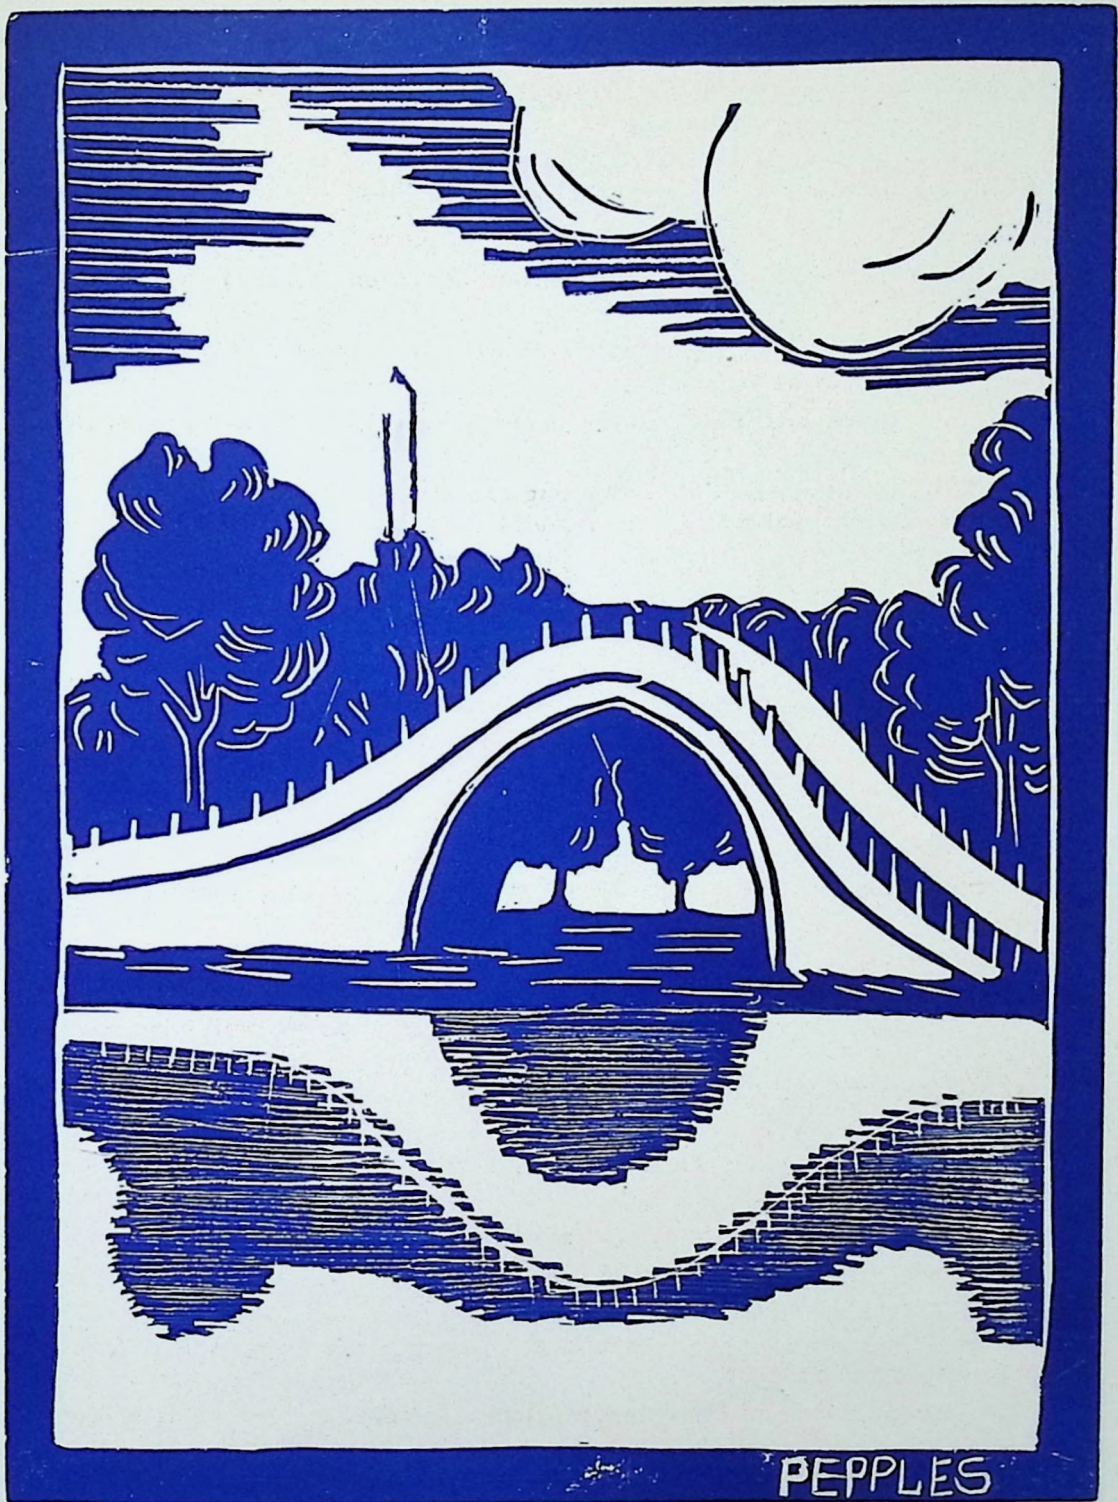

I, Georgiann Pepples, leave my technique to Ann Caroline Noel.

I, Irma Carter, leave a bottle of aspirin to next year's prophet.

I, Martha Moore, leave my patience to the '38-'39 Panorama Staff.

I, Eloise Palmore, leave my ability to hide my feelings to Anne Roberts Blanton.

In Witness Whereof, we have hereunto set our hand at Frankfort, Kentucky, this day of June 7, 1938.

HOLLAND

PHILLIP GORDON—Quarterback

Phillip was a hard player and an excellent signal caller. For nerves of steel, we give you Phillip Gordon.

BERNARD GRAVITT—Center

Captain Gravitt proved himself quite worthy of the team captaincy and led the boys through fire and water. He fought hardest when the going was the toughest, and gave his best in every game.

CHESTER McNEES—Fullback

Mac, a newcomer from Cynthiana, quickly earned a position on the first team. His ability to gain whenever called on was a decided asset in every game.

RUSSELL HOLLAND—Halfback

Although a little light, Rusty was an excellent safety man. He was fast and shifty, and carried the ball many yards.

TOM WHITAKER—Halfback

Tom, by his punting and passing, distinguished himself as a very capable man. His pass-catching and blocking also stood out.

HAROLD AITKEN—Tackle

Harold finished his career as the best tackler, blocker, and all-around lineman on the team. We hate to see him go.

R. T. BROOKS—Halfback

Brooks, a fast, shifty, and dangerous runner, gained many a needed yard, and should develop into a real ball carrier next season.

DEVALL PAYNE—End

Another recruit from Maysville, Duvy proved to be capable of handling the end assignment with the skill of a veteran.

DUVALL

CLEOPHAS PULLIAM—End

Cleophas was an end of no small ability. His pass-catching and defensive skill easily earned him a position on the first team.

LEON HARROD—Tackle

Although lacking in experience, Leon proved to be an excellent lineman, a valuable asset to the team.

DICK BROWN—Guard

Dick was a keen, reliable guard, and his hard charging and tackling were of excellent merit.

ROBERT DUVALL—Tackle

Robert—an excellent tackle whose defensive and offensive power was a stand-out all season—will form the nucleus of next year's line.

JUNEY WELLS—Tackle

Juney always fought hard and gave his best in each game. He might have been a star player had he not been hampered by a trick shoulder.

ROBERT PERRY—Tackle

In his first year with the team, Babe came through with flying colors, and his tackling and blocking will be well appreciated next fall.

HAROLD DAILEY—Center

Harold was a dependable auxiliary player who fought as hard as any regular. He has proved his ability to play real football.

RANDOLPH LEWIS—Guard

Randy deserted the manager's role for a position on the team. Despite his lack of weight, Randy made up for this handicap by his determination and fighting ability.

JAMES BAKER—Halfback

James developed fast toward the close of the season and showed plenty of ability as a halfback.

PERRY

ROBERT PERRY—Guard

Babe's speed and stamina dazzled many opponents and earned him a place on the All-District team. He will be the nucleus of next year's five.

BUCK CLAY—Forward

Captain Clay's ability to hit the basket from anywhere on the floor netted him 116 points. His aggressiveness and fighting ability will be missed next year.

ROBERT HALE—Forward

Although lacking in height, Bobby's speed easily made up for this handicap. He scored 115 points and was second only to Clay in high scoring.

NORMAN HOUCHINS—Forward

Norman, a newcomer from Mt. Olivet, quickly took over the number one reserve position, and his ability to score in the closest moments of the game was invaluable.

CHESTER McNEES—Guard

Although Mac was lost to the team in the second semester, his performance in the majority of the games stamped him as an excellent offensive and defensive player.

BERNARD GRAVITT—Guard

A steady, reliable player, Bernard took over the varsity guard position when McNees quit, and finished the season as an excellent floor man and a defensive star.

TOM WHITAKER—Center

Tom was a top-notch ball handler and a key man in every play. His defensive ability was a decided asset in every game.

BRIDGE HOUSES IN GERMANY

HIGHLIGHTS OF HIGH SCHOOL

SEPTEMBER

7. F. H. S. opened her doors again. Lofty Seniors take on the school.
12. Hear Senior girls talking about Football Sponsor. What's that?
16. "Coach's Chapel." Gravitt is captain and pianist Virginia Hughes is sponsor. You deserve it, Virginia. Coach does make the cutest cheer leader.
17. Boys went on football strike. Harrodsburg made the score 25-0. Who said they were Pioneers?
20. More broken bones going around. What happened?
23. Mr. Redding makes a speech. Seniors start taking pictures. Ain't we pretty?
24. We drove to Lexington for the football game and were late—so Lexington won 33-0. Spinster Hop tonight . . . sweet . . . parties were fun, too. Collier had charge of the floor show at the Hop!
27. David is rushing around . . . what you so busy for, Davy?

30. More sleepy heads . . . wasn't Jan Garber in Lexington last night?

OCTOBER

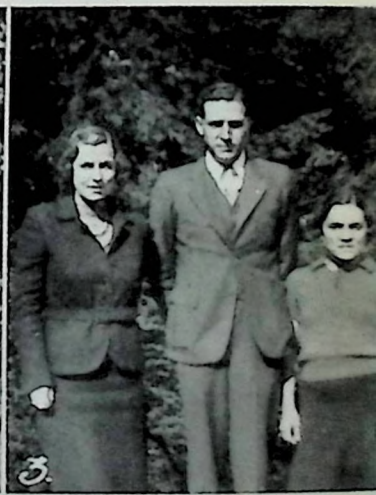

1. Winchester football game, 14-6. Us win!
6. Sad faces . . . Reports. Spinster Initiation.
8. Play Lawrenceburg. Whoopee! We won 14-7. Jean had open house.
15. Versailles won—long faces floating around.
22. Shelbyville fought hard to beat us 19-0.
26. Margaret Brown came to school on time. Somebody declare a holiday.
28. Susan and Margaret absent this afternoon . . . is there a good show on?

NOVEMBER

3. Pepples to lead the band to greater glory. Congratulations, Pepples.
5. Georgetown got beat 13-0. Us went and did it.
8. Dr. Sherwood spoke in chapel. Are you "honest", Mr. Hixson?

1. Cheese it, the cops! 2. A parade? 3. Sorry we forgot you. 4. M. Averill, Mr. Ireland, and Miss Cox. 5. Thanks for the memory. 6. Miss Lutkemeier, Mr. Ketron, Miss Kagin. 7. Explain yourself, Mr. Lee. 8. Mr. Redding's Pollyannas.

Things You Often See

1. F. H. S.

2. What you laughing at?

3. Hot dog.

4. Beauty and two beasts!

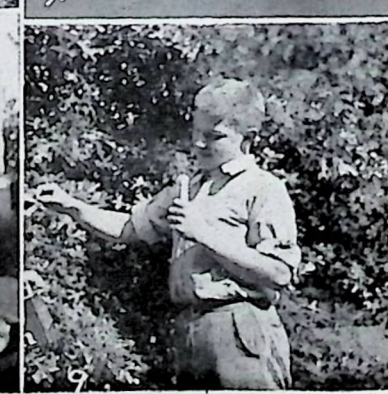

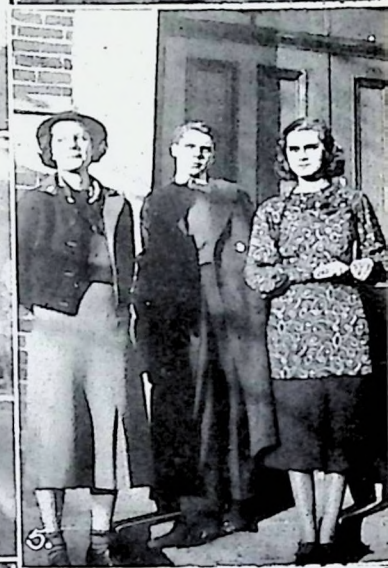

5. Romans from way back.

6. She's in a "gayle".

7. Wild West or Ballyhoo, Coach?

8. Warden calling—gotta go.

9. What! Paying for it?

Things You Don't See Often

1. Things I never saw till now.

2. Party in full dress.

3. I hope I don't see it again
—a Senior and a Freshman!

4. Be my eyes deceiving me!

5. Way back thar.

6. Swing it.

7. Words fail me!

8. Maybe I'm drunk.

9. Alice meets her Waterloo.

10. Up and coming eighth graders.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HIGH SCHOOL

9. Dr. McVey talked over Jimmy's head, but everybody else enjoyed it.
10. Dr. Adams visited—always welcome.
11. Sophomore class entertains. More sour notes, despite Payne. Miss Foxworth paid a visit. Us still loves her. Armistice Day. Podge Moore and Ann Henry declare war!
12. Paris vs. Frankfort, 13-0. We came, saw, and went home.
15. Hi Hop Club Dance in gym . . we saw you dancing, Coach, and we're jealous.
17. Dr. Smith came to see us, and told us about Africa.
18. Capitolian Staff entertains. We're surprised at you and Mahan, Mary Ruby. Right in chapel, too! Basketball practice today . . watch Whit, Eloise.
19. Big Apple Dance tonight at the Parish House.
- 24-29. Thanksgiving holidays. Thanks, Mr. Ireland, for the days off.

DECEMBER

3. Girl Reserve Conference. More grand-looking women.
10. Spinsters had another brawl. Margaret had an intermission party!
15. Dennis comes to school without make-up. Somebody warn her.
17. Harrodsburg whipped us, 26-30. Woe is us.
23. Hurray! Holidays. Everybody has Xmas spirits (?).

JANUARY

1. A sappy New Year to you all!
7. Lawrenceburg came here and we beat them 27-30. Good work, boys.
11. Showed Coach's home town how it was done. Beat them 22-27.
14. We done it again—Georgetown 15, Us 28. Timbuck high score man!
18. The cutest referee made the score at Richmond 21-19. Sob, sob, they beat us.
21. Winchester showed us how basketball is played . . 40-35.
25. St. X gave us another lesson, 38-16.
- 25-28. Those exam papers are running around again. I hope I pass, I hope, I hope!
28. Versailles 14, Us 47. Tough to be famous.
30. Football Hercules get their maps recorded. Cute cameraman!

FEBRUARY

1. Guess we got what it takes; beat Shelbyville 24-38.
3. Latin Club Program and open house. That Aitken boy shows promise.

4. Lawrenceburg asked for it; so we beat them again.
8. After a hard battle Paris licked us 18-15. Pat and Mary paid us a visit. She just couldn't resist that smile of Jimmie Sutterlin. Tsk, Tsk! Harris just couldn't wait any longer. Right, Harris?
11. Went and serenaded Midway High School. Henry and Palmore helped me revise my daily jottings for this masterpiece. Thanks, pals! Traveled to Lexington and came back with score reading 32, Us 19!
14. More hearts floating around. Valentine greetings! South, Marshall, Perry, and Mahan "out-debated" Georgetown.
15. Defeated Richmond 27-25. Looked more like a war to me.
18. Spinster Dance.
22. George's Birthday—Beat University Hi! D. A. R. theme returns. Congratulations, Betty.
25. Prof. Quiz takes form in Tom Mahan (Pretty Boy). Such brilliance! Capitolian Doings.

MARCH

2. AKOS Broadcast—What price drama!
- 3, 4, 5. District Basketball Tournament.
9. The Seniors' annual free for all—invitation selection.
16. Stumped, I reckon. I. Q. test for Seniors.
17. Clever, these Irishmen—Mr. Nord lends a touch of green for St. Patrick.

APRIL

1. Careful, Freshmen. It's April Fool's Day! I hear rumors of a Writers' Club Dance. Shucks, I hope so.
- 13-15. Bless our hearts. It's K. E. A. time again.
18. Don't blush, Coach! Happy Birthday. You still look—oh, twenty-five.
28. AKOS one-act play contest.
- 28-30. Music Contest. Everybody's gone somewhere! Maybe Lexington.

MAY

3. Won't be long—I'll be a freshman again. This dizzy whirl.
10. I hear Dame Rumor screaming Junior-Senior Boat Ride.
13. Everybody talking clothes.
27. Boat ride. Wonderful time.

JUNE

5. Baccalaureate.
7. Class Nite.
9. Graduation.

Mrs. Mercer—How many trig. problems did you get right?

J. Chenault—If I get this one right, and three more I'll have four.

* * * * *

Even his best friends wouldn't tell him—so he flunked the exam.

* * * * *

Coach (to his Freshman gym class)—All right, now. Everybody raise his left leg and hold it straight out in front of you.

Fred Mahan by mistake raises his right leg, making it side by side with his neighbor's.

Coach (sarcastically)—Well, who is that down there holding up both legs?

* * * * *

Edna O'Nan—How do you spell "sense?"

Mr. Lee—Dollars and cents or horse sense?

Edna—Well, like in "I ain't seen him sense."

* * * * *

L. Brightwell—Is this the City Bridge Department?

Gruff Voice—Yeah!

L. B.—How many points for a little slam vulnerable?

* * * * *

Harold Dailey—Have you anything to say before I shoot?

J. Nord—Yeah, I'll fade my whole ten bucks.

* * * * *

Miss South—We will now sing hymn number 32.

Bernard Gravitt—It isn't in the book.

Miss South—O. K. We'll sing number 16 twice.

* * * * *

Mr. Van Hoose was drilling his class in the principles of subtraction—Now, if you subtract 25 from 37, what's the difference?

Forester S.—Yeah, that's what I say. I think it's the bunk, too.
